LOCAL POLICE AID IN SEARCH FOR PRISONERS

Richmond police have joined with authorities of the entire bay district in a search for three men who escaped from the detention home at Angel Island yesterday morning in a supply motorboat after slugging a guard. Local police were patrolling the waterfront last night and yesterday, it being thought that the men had steered their craft up the Carquinez Straits, hoping to make an escape.

Authorities declare there was enough fuel in the boat for an extended trip. The three men, Eugene Amor, Ferrie Hugo and Geary Perment, were being held pending an investigation of their claims they were entitled to land in the United States.

In patrolling his rounds, a guard was attacked by the men, who secured his keys opening the doors to the outside. A motorboat was missing a few minutes later.

Authorities on Angel Island at once notified the San Francisco police patrol boat and immigration officers, while Richmond officers spread a net along the local waterfront, without finding a trace of the men or boat.

A personal investigation has been launched by Commissioner J. D. Nagle.

CHARGES FLY IN BLAST QUIZ

Charges that the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation removed evidence in connection with the fatal explosion aboard the oil tanker Richlube as it docked last Sunday, were made yesterday by Coroner T. B. Leland of San Francisco.

Efforts of the company to block attempts by city officials to investigate the catastrophe were roundly flayed by the coroner.

Two were killed and five injured in the blast.

It was charged that most of the equipment was removed from the ship after the accident, frustrating a thorough investigation.

The coroner's jury determined death of the two victims due to a blast, reason for which is unknown.

North Richmond Church Hit By Foreclosure Suit

John L. Griffin yesterday filed suit in Superior Court at Marin against the North Richmond Baptist Church and its board of trustees seeking an order foreclosing on two Richmond lots owned by the church to satisfy a loan of $400 he says was made in March, 1926, and which has not been repaid. The suit was filed through Attorney Will Robinson and Cyrus King.

Hinds' Counsel Seeks Check Of Book Auditing

Formal notice was served yesterday by Mayor Philip A. Lee of El Cerrito, acting as chairman of the finance commission, on former Police Judge W. A. Hinds, ordering him to pay to the city $719.75 at once or to account for the amount on his court records. The action follows the auditing of the books with the alleged shortage in accounts shown.

Mayor Lee stated that if the money was not accounted for by Monday night, further action would be taken by the city council.

Hinds denies that a shortage in his accounts exists and that all funds collected by the court had been turned over to the city. In a letter to the El Cerrito council, Hinds charges that the audit showing a discrepancy of $719.75 was a "political" move and requests that his own auditor, J. O. Ford of Richmond, and his attorney, T. D. Johnson of Martinez be permitted to examine the books and records.

The following letter to the El Cerrito council was made public by Hinds yesterday:

To Hon. Phil Lee, Mayor, City of El Cerrito;

and J. P. Plank, Police Judge, City of El Cerrito.

Gentlemen:

I understand that one Grace Moses has filed a report with reference to the conduct of my office as City Recorder or Police Judge. In reading over the preliminary of the report I note that it was made under instructions of Mayor Lee and presumably on behalf of the council.

Strange to say, the newspapers received the contents and made their comment before it ever came to my attention. Officially it would have seemed as though or—

REALTY BOARD HEARS CHARGE BY DR. HEWITT

An important meeting of the Richmond Board of Realtors was held yesterday noon, with E. B. Bull presiding. A number of matters were taken up and discussed and acted upon.

The complaint of Dr. L. A. Hewitt, that P.M. Sanborn had acted as agent in a real estate deal without a license was discussed and it was decided that as Hewitt had taken the matter directly to the state real estate commissioner and the state official had secured restitution for him, the local board was without jurisdiction.

Attention to the board that Sanborn Hewitt charged in his communication him a price of $15,000 on a piece of property in Richmond when the selling price was but $14,100.

To attend the mass meeting to be held at the city hall this evening under the direction of the council and the planning commission for the discussion of the single residence zone, a committee composed of J. H. Plate, E. J. Burg, S. H. Quana, M. A. Hays, T. B. Corrie and N. Atallah was appointed.

Music, Books Last Request Of Condemned

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—William Shannon, murderer of Harold Lage, Stockton auto salesman, must expiate his crime on the gallows at Folsom prison tomorrow morning. Gov. Young decided late this afternoon that he will not grant the 30 day reprieve requested by the attorney for the condemned man.

Shannon was in the death cell at Folsom tonight, apparently resigned to his fate. His only request was that a phonograph be placed outside his cell, and on this the death guards played records loaned by various prisoners. Shannon sat inside reading.

Richmond First

The RECORD-HERALD stands for "RICHMOND FIRST" at all times. It believes that every right thinking business man and taxpayer of this city is of the same opinion.

It contends that a civic organization should not employ any person whose entire interests are in outside cities. Its chief aim should be for the protection of the interests of the city as a whole, and not of any particular class or individual.

If the RECORD-HERALD is wrong in its contention, it would like to know it, and the columns of this paper are open to anyone who wishes to justify such a position.

The RECORD-HERALD is not opposed to any civic organization, it is not opposed to the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, as a few blatant mouthed individuals have attempted to make a FEW people believe.

Directors of such bodies are just as liable to make mistakes as anyone else, they are not infallible. When such matters are brought to their attention they should be rectified.

If there is any justification in the maintaining of an OAKLAND 2-DAY-A-WEEK-$200-A-MONTH publicity man, this paper would like to know it.

Let us stand for "RICHMOND FIRST" at all times, and you will see every business man here prosper, and every taxpayer reap benefits through increased values in property. Keeping your dollars at home is one of the most vital issues that faces the people of Richmond.

Holding secret meetings and condemning the editor of the RECORD-HERALD because he stands for the best interests of this city, reminds us of the lawyer who goes into court and has no case, he attempts to throw up a smoke screen by abusing "the other fellow."

FASTER FERRY SERVICE TOMORROW; FETE PLANNED

And tomorrow Richmond celebrates the beginning of a better and more frequent ferry service to and from San Francisco, inaugurated by the Southern Pacific company!

Three ferry boats, operating on a 30-minute schedule, will be put in service at 6 a. m. tomorrow (Saturday) morning. At the same time the Southern Pacific begins the operation of a motor bus service from Tenth and Macdonald, connecting with all ferry boats up to and including the last ferry boat leaving Richmond and San Francisco at 12:30 a. m. Heretofore Richmond passengers on the late ferryboat from San Francisco, if they did not have their own motor car, were forced to walk three miles into downtown Richmond.

In recognition of this new and better and faster ferry service, the people of Richmond are sponsoring a big motor parade, a trip across the bay, a motor caravan up Market street from the San Francisco Ferry building, spreading the word "travel via Richmond—the scenic route."

The Richmond motor cavalcade will form at Twenty-third and Macdonald at 10:30 a. m. Ralph N. Bergen, chairman of the civic affairs committee of the chamber of commerce, will act as grand marshal and director.

The Richmond high school band of 30 pieces, directed by Bandmaster George M. Morris, will head the procession in a decorated motor speed truck, carrying two large banners for display up Market street, reading "Save time and money—travel Southern Pacific Ferry via Richmond—the scenic route North—Now! 30-minute service."

MEYERS HELD ON CHARGE BY TRAFFIC COP

Charged with resisting an officer, Fred Meyers, 65, president of the Pullman Water company, was taken into custody last night and gained his release after posting a property bond of $1000.

He is slated for arraignment in Judge Alstrom's court in a day or two.

According to authorities, Traffic Officer Eddie Baker was engaged in tagging a speeder when Meyers passed him in his car, driving at a rate alleged to be in excess of 50 miles an hour. Commanding his prisoner to follow him, Baker gave chase along Macdonald avenue, north on Forty-third, around the block and then to the water company's pump station, where Meyers was flagged by Baker.

"Don't bother me when I drive fast," Meyers is alleged to have told the officer.

Baker started to write out a tag when Meyers grabbed an iron bar and attempted to strike him. It is alleged. The bar caught in the car, and Baker completed the citation. The officer then proceeded to Judge Alstrom's court where a warrant was prepared.

Officer E. C. Povennire served the summons on Meyers.

Plane Flights Not Permanent Cure For Deaf

Airplane rides temporarily relieve deafness but cannot be relied upon for a permanent cure, according to Henry H. Krundick, 62, 560 Forty-third street, this city, foreman at the local refinery.

Since losing his hearing a few months ago, Krundick has taken to airplane rides in an effort to relieve the malady. Recently he went as high as 17,000 feet, and after a quick descent remarked that his hearing had improved.

"I'm going up to 20,000 feet next time," Krundick declared yesterday. He said he had been as high up as 22,000 feet while flying over the South American Andes.

"Quick dives in an airplane are not only useless for medical purposes, but are highly dangerous to the occupants of the plane, as proven in the tragic accident at Eureka on last Sunday when three people lost their lives. I'm afraid that unfounded reports of my hearing may have led to the Eureka experiment. I did not regain my hearing in the recent flight I took over Mt. Whitney, though I was helped some for the time being."

"Anyone going to try the airplane method of helping their hearing had better have a sack of money, for aviators are inclined to double their prices for flights when they know they are intended for medical purposes. I have spent many hundreds of dollars already with aviators and specialists—all to no lasting benefit."

Renner Is Held To Face Trial

R. B. Renner, extradited from Montana on a charge of failing to provide for the support of a minor child, yesterday was held to answer after a hearing before Judge Alstrom. Ball was placed at $250, and Renner secured his release.

The trial brought out the belief Renner was not wholly to blame for the extended search launched by his bonding company when his bail of $500 was forfeited. It developed that he had phoned District Attorney Tinsling from San Diego, and being informed he was $125 in arrears mailed a check for that amount. Meanwhile his company transferred him to Montana, and then it was discovered his payments were short, which led to a search for him.

WARREN HITS OFFICIALS AS AIDING CRIME

"Emeryville is probably the roughest city, morally, on the Pacific Coast," declared District Attorney Warren yesterday in seeking federal aid to cope with an alleged gambling ring in which city officials are declared to be involved.

U. S. Attorney Hatfield has turned the matter over to Ralph Read, head of the U. S. special investigating bureau of prohibition.

"Vice is encouraged by the city officials as well as by the people," charged Warren. "It is rampant, and I feel certain that money is paid to allow it to exist. There are three streets in the city that can be described as nothing else than vice holes."

"I cannot send undercover agents there without endangering their very lives. A year and a half ago I sent John Marmon there to investigate and he was killed. I send prohibition agents there they are followed by thugs wherever they go."

"Not so long ago I managed to convict William K. Carey, a brother of the Emeryville chief of police, for running a house of ill repute within 200 yards of the chief's office."

"I raided a brewery there the other night and found it to be owned by the chief's son and son-in-law."

"Alameda county would be fairly decent if we could get rid of Emeryville."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF RICHMOND, CAL.

AMERICAN SHIPS ARE NEEDED

The lower house of congress heard from the lips of a member from a district in the interior—Representative Reece, of Tennessee—a stirring appeal for an adequate merchant marine as an auxiliary of the navy. The national defense feature of the merchant marine problem has been overlooked by too many legislators. It happens that Mr. Reece was in the American Expeditionary Forces and that his own observations and experiences drove home to him the vital fact that the United States is not safely protected if it does not possess merchant ships capable of serving as naval auxiliaries in time of war.

Mr. Reece pointed out that during the War of the Revolution armed merchantmen captured or destroyed three times as many enemy ships as did all the American warships combined. In the War of 1812, American merchantmen again gave a good account of themselves, inflicting six times as much damage on the enemy as did the United States Navy. But for merchant ships the North could not have successfully blockaded the Southern ports in the Civil War and during the war with Spain the four American merchant vessels available were as valuable as warships. One of them, the St. Paul, defeated a Spanish cruiser and a Spanish destroyer in a hot battle off San Juan, P. R.

The lack of merchant vessels during the late war was serious handicap to the United States besides necessitating enormous expenditures. The cost of unpreparedness in this field is estimated by Representative Reece at $8,000,000,000, of which $3,000,000,000 represents the cost of the war emergency fleet and $5,000,000,000 paid out in ocean freight charges. Mr. Reece quoted the assertion of Admiral Gleaves during the World War:

"The outstanding lesson which the experience of the war has driven home to us is the value both in peace and in war of a prosperous deep-sea merchant marine."—Washington Post.

CHEERS FOR THE BRAVE

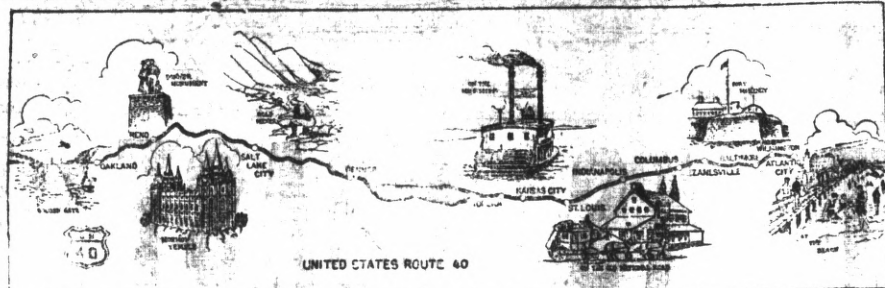

It is a great pity that the luster of the exploit of Von Huenefeld, Fitzmaurice and Koehl has been temporarily dimmed by the tragic death of Floyd Bennett.

Many flags originally hung in a spirit of jubilation at the first successful termination of an east-west transatlantic flight, have been lowered to half staff for the time being in honor of the heroic American aviator who met his death while on a friendly mission of help to the overseas flyers.

The nation will follow with deep sympathy the final tributes paid to Bennett.

There will still remain the duty of paying tribute with one accord to the men from Germany and Ireland who also faced death fearlessly but who won through every peril to a landing on the American continent.

Vigorous Health

WHAT COLOR DO YOU LIKE BEST?

The color you like best indicates to some extent your character. It may also indicate your condition of health. Color is a form of vibration, the violet and ultra-violet end of the spectrum having the shortest vibrations and the red and infra-red end having the longest. We are naturally affected by vibration of all kinds as every cell in our bodies is constantly vibrating.

The value of color in the treatment of disease long has been known, but has never received the general recognition that it deserves, because the effects are seldom immediately noticeable. Treatment must be continued persistently to give it a fair trial. Of course, color is not all there is to the treatment of disease, but it is a helpful adjunct. This can readily be proved by any one if they use their powers of observation. The reason you like a certain color is because that gives you a pleasant sensation makes you hopeful, stimulates all the functions of your body and helps to harmonize your vibrations. You can degenerate the colors you need, at least to a large extent, from this belief. Red is warming and stimulating, yellow is cheerful and mildly stimulating, blue is cooling and quieting, white is uplifting, black is depressing. Combinations of basic colors produce combination effects.

Kindly advise about bunions and whether an operation for the same is serious.—SHOE SALESMAN.

Bunions are due to improperly fitted and shaped shoes, especially to high heels and pointed toes. Until the proper shoes are worn bunions can never be corrected. In their first stages a change to proper shoes, together with manipulation of the affected joint and the use of a pad between the toes will bring about a cure. In the later stages pain and inflammation can be relieved by the same measures, but the deformity can only be corrected by operation. Such an operation is seldom advisable as it is not always satisfactory and there is some danger of infection and further deformity.

My hair and scalp are excessively oily so that I wash my hair every day. Would a nervous condition cause this? I am a bookkeeper and bothered with nervousness, low blood pressure and a weak heart. WILLIAM D.

DADDY DUSK

Twin and Twinnie and Joe were feeling almost like real explorers as they started out along the highway toward the big farm that Grandfather Benson had abandoned the day that his wife had died and which he had given the children permission to call theirs, provided they made tours of inspection often enough to see that things were just right.

Things were just beginning to show their new green as the three youngsters swung into their rapid ground-covering strides and swung their arms as they drank in the fresh spring air.

After all, it was fun just being alive on a Saturday afternoon with nothing to do but explore.

Before they realized it they could see the big old farm house ahead of them. It stood on the top of one of the hills that looked down on their town, its white boards beginning to show gray where the rain had washed them in the five years since granny had died.

There was always a race to see who would catch the first glimpse of the house on this first trip of exploration in the spring.

"There it is," Twinnie shrieked just as Joe let out an "I spy." "Solemnly the two youngsters held up their hands, little fingers crooked, locked fingers and touched their thumbs together.

"Salt," said Joe.

And then for a very solemn and very long minute they held their breath and made their secret wishes.

GOOD MANNERS

Q. How soon after their receipt should wedding gifts be acknowledged? Is it permissible to send printed cards of acknowledgment, filling in the date, names, etc?

A. The bride's note of thanks should go out as soon as possible, after receiving the gift and must be written by her personally. Farm cards are not in good taste.

Q. In sending a wedding invitation or announcement to sister and brother, how should the envelope be addressed?

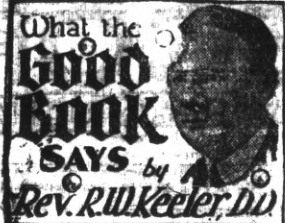

A. They should have separate cards. The only two people to whom you may send one card are husband and wife. "Mr. and Mrs. Q. How should a baked potato be eaten?

A. Baked potatoes, as a rule, are served split open, with a lump of butter on top of the white surface. The butter is smoothed into the potato and the potato eaten from the skin. Never scoop it out of the skin and mash it on the plate.

Q. When a man and woman are introduced is it not a breach of etiquette for the man to offer to shake hands? If he offers his hand, is the woman not justified in ignoring it?

A. Shaking hands is purely a matter of personal preference. Strictly speaking, it is the woman's privilege to offer her hand if she wishes to do so. It is exceedingly rude and most unkind, however, to refuse to take a hand that is extended to you.

With the miniature rifle, La Vert wanders into the woods, where he meets the lovely girl of the picture wading in a stream. La Vert says nothing of his duel and allows Betsy to chide him for the unmanliness of his teaching profession. While he, in turn, mocks the shortsightedness of her cavaliers, they are startled by distant voices calling, "Betsy."

CHAPTER III
Before a massive mahogany sideboard, decorated with decanters and a gleaming array of bottles, stood a negro servant in livery, into a tall, fat-bellied glass full of finely cracked ice at the bottom of which reposed some sugar, he carefully measured a generous portion of Bourbon rye from a cobwebbed bottle. He stirred the mixture meticulously, and brought the sugar seeping up through the ice. From a pile of fresh, green mint he selected several small sprigs, crushed them, and stirred them in the glass. At last a white coating of

"Mersey on us, William! Mistress Ellen Massenbird explained, bounding into the room and shaking an accusing finger at her brother-in-law. "Do control yourself. And do be quiet. The children have not yet awakened."

"What! Up since five o'clock, and tramping over the hills alone!" Mistress Massenbird exclaimed, throwing up her hands in horror.

"Deys' not alone, Miss Ellen," Eph shook his curly black head. "Deys' had kennehem wiv' em."

"Gentlemen! The plump little figure emitted a faint scream and sank back into a chair. "Mersey on us! My salts! Where are my smelling salts?" She searched the reticule frantically for the little bottle; discovered it; and applied it to her nostrils vigorously. "Before daylight, then," she moaned. "Oh, I'm breathless!"

"Here come Miss Mary now," Eph pointed out the window that overlooked the garden.

"From that vantage point they all could see a beautiful figure of a young girl running along the path that led from the woods. Her hair was blown about, and her bonnet was hanging by the strings about her neck, and swinging back and forth between her shoulders like a fan. Her face peered over a tremendous bunch of wild flowers that filled her two arms to overflowing.

"I shall go down to meet them," William, Miss Massenbird declared, jumping up from her chair and scurrying through the door. Major Patterson grunted and returned to his room to finish dressing, sending back instructions over his shoulder to Eph concerning the duplication of his lost julep. But William, Vert, anxious to see the outcome of the little drama, and, incidentally, Betsy, hurried after the disappearing figure of Betsy's chambermaid.

"Aunt Ellen! Aunt Eli—Oh, you're up! Betsy's cousin wig-wagged the flowers as she pattered up through the garden and the two figures, Mistress Ellen in the lead, advanced onto the porch like a pair of deer.

"Yes, I'm up," Miss Massenbird returned primly.

"Where's Betsy Patterson, may I ask?"

"Why, she's—she's coming—but she can't walk very far," Betsy explained, her eyes on the ground, and a decided blush mantling cheeks.

"Can't walk fast?" Miss Massenbird gasped. "Mersey on us, has she broken her something—she's questioned delicately."

"No—Oh, no, Auntie, she hasn't got her shoes on, and—"

"Hush! her shoes off! Lord bless us!" For the second of this kind morning Miss Massenbird precipitated herself into a chair without due ceremony.

"Well, you see, Auntie," Mary explained lamely, "we met a little barefoot boy, and Betty said that she envied him his freedom, and then Sir Henry said he'd wager Betty couldn't take three steps in her bare feet—"

"Her bare feet! Oh! Oh! Miss Massenbird's rocking chair was going full tilt.

"Yes," Mary continued hastily, "and Betty will never take a dare, you know, so she pulled off her shoes and stockings and declared she'd go wading—and she did—in the spring, while I entertained the gentlemen, and then she said she'd walk all the way back to the hotel that way, and she's going to give her a dozen pairs of silk stockings from France for doing it, cause he said she couldn't." Mary was breathless from her recital, and even as she finished a sound of laughter came from the woods and in another moment Betty and her admirers appeared on the pathway.

"There she is!" exclaimed Miss Massenbird, jumping up and pressing a chair to welcome the triumphant and laughing group. "Some man dancing attendance upon her, I'll be bound!"

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Tomato Is Now Declared Fruit

(By Universal Service)
MELBOURNE, May 3. — Australian Trade and Customs Minister has decided the tomato is a fruit rather than a vegetable.
On a tariff schedule problem, the Commonwealth Attorney General was unable to decide the old problem. Scientists and botanists were consulted but they differed.
Foreign practice was found to vary, so the Ministry has cut the Gordian knot by declaring that until further notice "the tomato is a fruit."

ROGERS TELLS OWN STORY OF LATEST FILM

Here's Will Rogers' own explanation of how he was chosen by Sam Rork for the star of "A Texas Steer." First National comedy riot now showing at the Richmond Theatre.
It's the story of a Texas cowboy who is elected to Congress on votes that were bought. I never did claim to be a Barrymore or Warfield, and you folks are hereby warned about that, but Sam rushed me into this contract when he said, "Will, all you have to do is act natural like."
Now I find acting natural like a Congressman means I've got the big comedy part of the year in pictures. Any Congressman can give me a laugh any day in the year just acting natural and that is why I think you will like "A Texas Steer" because I act natural and real actors like Louise Fazenda, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., G. Marion, Sr., Ann Rork, Lillian Tashman and other great actors and provide the sex appeal.
Other film features include the seventh chapter of "Heroes of the Wild" featuring Jack Hobbs and Buster's Handicap a Buster Brown comedy.

Ordinary decency would have dictated that I should have been first apprised of any alleged discrepancies before making it a matter of public print. I have been possibly subjected to some censure by reason of this report and feel that it is necessary for me to have an auditing of my own made, and I am going to request that J. O. Ford, a recognized public accountant and my attorney, Thos. D. Johnston, be permitted to inspect and examine all of the papers, records, files and proceedings of the office of police judge during my incumbency and I trust that you will accord them access thereto.

I note, however, in the alleged report made by Grace Moses to you, that you used the expression "happenings of the recorders court." Please advise me what was the object in employing the public accountant, if it was to investigate the financial affairs of the office, why the word "happenings" or is it a political move on your part. That, however, would be different, and we can prepare to meet that accordingly. I am inclined to think that probably this is entirely a political matter and owing to the fact that you gave it first to the public press without giving me an opportunity to answer or first know what I was charged with, that that is a fact. It might be that many men charged with the commission of a public offense do not always spell their names correctly to the officer and in the report that Grace Moses makes to you she does not anywhere give case number in Group 2. Whereas, if she did so, I could and would prepare to properly account for every amount stated therein. I can only suppose that the failure to give case number in the report is done with the idea of casting a reflection upon me and attempting to injure me in the community. I can show by the same reports that this supposed accountant expected that every dollar ever received by me as police judge of El Cerrito has been properly accounted for. Furthermore I hardly see how you could give the communication to the Oakland Tribune that you did, charging me with shortage of funds when other person's names are joined in the report and you do not mention them, but charge the same solely to me. Furthermore the statement of shortage upon which you based your statement to the Oakland Tribune of date, May 1, 1928, charges me with the receipts and embezzlement (by inference) of moneys admittedly by the report, never received. And again, the report handed you by the accountant criticizes me in matters of administration of duties which even do not in any measure involve alleged shortage of funds, although that is charged and I would like to have an explanation of the alleged statements included in Group 5.

If you had been as industrious in the investigating of affairs of the police court of El Cerrito as you have been in circulating reports about me and giving communications to the press, you would have learned that in Group 5 had been fully turned over to my successor, before any communication was given by you to the press. If you investigate the A. Muenk matter, you will find that two charges were placed against him, one requiring bond of $500.00 bail and another requiring $50.00 bail. These are both referred to in Group 5. The charges were dismissed after investigation upon order of Hiram E. Jacobs, deputy district attorney of Contra Costa county.

As to the statement in Group 5 with reference to "also case 421 was given a fine of $15.00 while there is a receipt signed by Mr. W. A. Hinds for this; it is doubtful if the fine was ever paid as it shows he served three days in jail." Such a report is so indefinite and uncertain that I do not know what it means, and it is very difficult to answer his so-called report.

I feel, therefore that there is only one thing I can do to protect myself against the unjust charges that you are making, and for that reason I am going to request you to allow my accountant and my attorney to inspect the books and records formerly held by me, and trust that they will be turned over to them in the same condition as they were when I surrendered them.

Very truly yours,
W. A. HINDS

Hickman Opens Final Fight To Escape Gallows

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—Citing eighteen assignments of error, attorneys for William Edward Hickman today filed before the State Supreme Court their opening brief in their legal fight to save the convicted kidnapper-killer of little Marion Parker from the gallows.

Attorneys for the State will file answering briefs in Sacramento Monday. Arguments will be heard by the Supreme Court in Sacramento the following day and the case will be taken under consideration by the Supreme Court immediately afterwards.

A decision probably can be expected determining Hickman's fate within ten days afterward, probably by May 20, according to local attorneys.

ONLY HALF OF COUNTY VOTERS CAST BALLOTS

Less than half of the registered voters of Contra Costa county were polled Tuesday.

That bare statement would be of no special significance were it not for the fact that it merely is an indication of the landslide which will take place in California November 6 for Herbert Hoover. With a three-cornered contest in their ranks the Democratic vote was pretty well polled on Tuesday, but in Contra Costa county it totaled only 2741 for all three Bourbons combined. Al Smith beating his two opponents by 1487 to 1262 for Reed and Walsh together.

Against that total, 7205 Republicans went to the polls to endorse Hoover and when the Republicans muster their voting strength in November Contra Costa county, and the rest of the state will register a majority for Hoover, the first California republican candidate, surpassing even the remarkable Coolidge vote of four years ago.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday and canvassed the votes.

Let's All Celebrate The New Richmond-San Francisco Ferry Service Saturday

Beginning tomorrow, the Southern Pacific inaugurates a 30-Minute ferry service—again showing its faith in the future of Richmond. There's occasion for real rejoicing in this news, men and women of Richmond!

There's a reason why we should celebrate such an event! Transportation—regular, rapid, safe—is one of the greatest assets of any community.

The nearer we, of Richmond, are brought to our neighbors, the faster Richmond will grow.

This newer, faster and better ferry service will direct the attention of thousands of motorists to Richmond! They will travel our streets! They will see our shops, our schools, our fine residences! Some will see to come again and to remain—all will spread the story of Richmond!

Recognizing this new era in our transportation history, the Chamber of Commerce urges all Richmond citizens to join in our greeting to the Southern Pacific:

Put your motor car in the BIG PARADE leaving 23rd and Macdonald at 10:30 a. m. Saturday. Decorate it with flags and bunting.

Join the festivities, Folks of Richmond. Let's show our appreciation of this fine ferry service.

And this new ferry service is just another indication of what the Spirit of Co-operation can do. It is the direct result of friendly negotiations between the Southern Pacific, the Chamber of Commerce, the City Officials . . .

LET'S CELEBRATE SATURDAY!

SANNIES TAKE CONTEST FROM DOUGALL CLUB

Two good teams met last night in the City League games at First street park with the Richmond Sannies coming out on top by winning from the Dougall Hardware team. The score was 3 to 1, with neither team knocking any heavy hits.

Reckleberg, one of the latest additions to Phil Jones' crew, was on the mound for the Sannies and his perfect control showed that Phil Jones made a good choice in his selection. He held the Dougalls to three hits.

Kamb's spectacular left-hand catch in the sixth inning, when the grandstand figured he had no chance in the world of getting near the ball much less slapping his mitt on it, was one of the high lights of the game. O'Rourke Sannies' crack center fielder, collided for a double row of two batters, the heaviest hitting in the game.

In the sixth inning, the Dougalls had the bases filled and it looked for a time as though the score was going to be tied if not turned to their favor, but luck was against them.

There was good fielding on both sides, in fact this was what kept the score down for neither Reckleberg nor Buttsbach, who tossed apples for the Dougalls, struck out or walked many during the seven innings.

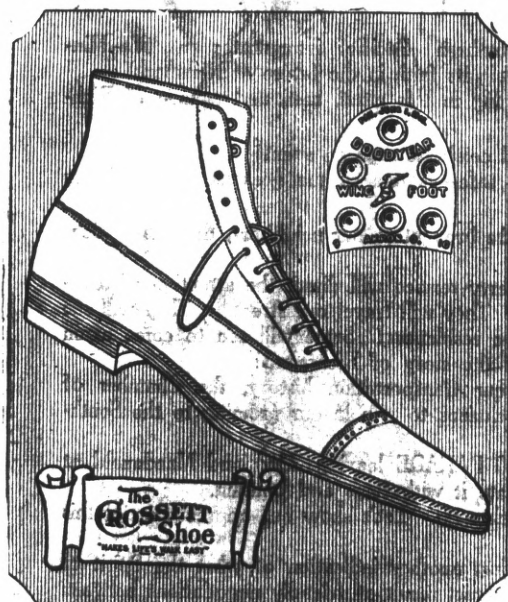

The Dougalls are up against the Santa Fe team for next Wednesday afternoon and from the brand of ball the Railroaders played against the Maliks, Archie Kemble's team will have to fight hard if they want to beat them.

24 BALL CLUBS AWAIT OPENING OF JR. LEAGUE

To accommodate the 24 teams seeking to enter the Junior Baseball League, four leagues in place of the two originally planned were decided upon by the committee meeting yesterday in the Hotel Carquinez. The leagues will be known as the American, National, Pacific and American Association.

Each of the leagues will be composed of six teams and the schedules will be arranged so that each team meets each of the others twice. All games must be played by July 1 when the "little world series" will start.

Chick Autry, John Miller and W. L. "Doc" Seawright met last night and arranged the time and place of the games. There will be four games each Saturday with time of play limited to two hours. Games will be played at First St. park, Nicholl park, and the Santa Fe grounds at 8:30 and 10:30 o'clock in the morning and 1:30 and 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The finance committee, of which John Miller is chairman, reported that $150 had been raised for equipment and that should more funds be needed, they will be subscribed.

Suitable trophies for the winning teams will be secured and each boy playing on a team for the complete schedule will be entertained at a banquet by the American Legion at the close of the season.

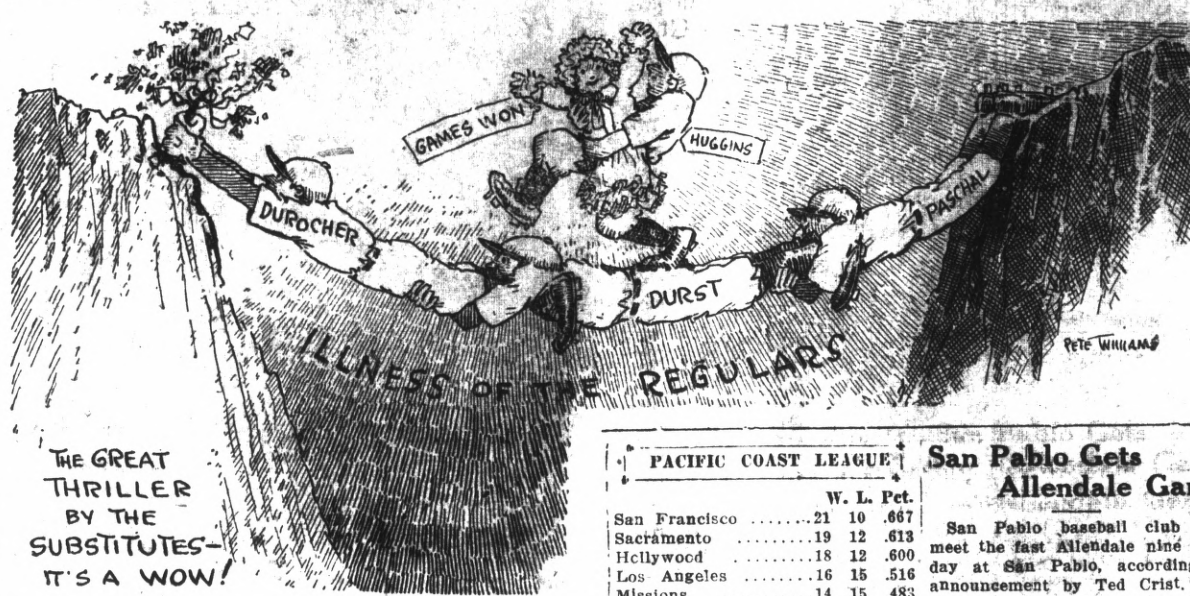

The following teams, six in each of four leagues, are entered:

Habit or Pleasure?

—you must choose—

If you are using any other than the Valet AutoShave Razor, shaving is just a habit. The Valet AutoShave Razor with the new "Valet" blade has changed uncomfortable shaving "habits." Now shaving is a pleasure.

The new "Valet" blade is made in accordance with our secret "Valetite" process of Steel Treating. True, you can shave in less than two minutes—but here's the most remarkable feature. The same degree of pleasure realized with the first shave—is still there with the tenth or fifteenth shave from the same blade.

Tex Rickard Forgiven By Fight Solons

By JAMES W. JENNINGS

That all-powerful duo of saintly gents who comprise part of the boxing commission donned their clean white robes and resplendent in halos and brilliant gold wings received Tex Rickard.

Tex is said to have sinned when he apparently intimated that some of the commission's cupids, better known as referees and judges, would be sweet to Jack Dempsey if he would come here to fight Gene Tunney, another of the heavenly breed.

Rickard proved to the satisfaction of the solons that his acts were innocent. They would not discuss the matter with the press but issued ukase No. 7747, reading thus:

"Tex Rickard appeared to explain telegrams sent by him to Dempsey which were made public in the course of his testimony at the recent Dempsey-Kearns trial. He acknowledged, under questioning, that he never knew of any one receiving favors at the hands of this commission and he never sought this consideration himself.

"He stated that he did not intend to convey this impression in his wire to Dempsey, but rather to impress upon Dempsey's mind that a fair and honest decision, with positively no favoritism to anyone in mine, would be rendered.

As to guaranteeing certainties, he stated he had New Jersey, Philadelphia, and Chicago in mind at the time."

Field Marshal With Gold Stick Responsible For King's Safety

LONDON, May 3.—The appointment of Field-Marshal Sir William Robertson to the colonelcy of the Royal Horse Guards (Blue), on succession to the late Field-Marshal Earl Haig places him in the distinguished company of many of our most famous soldiers.

The rolls of colonels of Household cavalry include such names as those of the Dukes of Manchester and Berwick, the Duke of Wellington, and Lord Wolseley. The present colonels of the regiments are Viscount Allenby, of the First Life Guards, Major-General the Hon. Sir C. Bingham of the Second, and the newly-appointed Sir William Robertson of the "Blues."

The colonelcy of a Household cavalry regiment carries with it the important court appointments of Gold Stick. The three Gold Sticks are each in turn Gold Stick in Waiting, being on duty for a month at a time. The duties attaching to the office are thus described:

"One of the captains commanding the Life Guards shall wait next to his Majesty's person before all others carrying in his hand an ebony staff with gold head, engraved with his Majesty's Cypher and Crown."

"He shall be in attendance on the King's person wherever he walks, from his rising to his going to bed, except in the Royal bed chamber."

The Gold Stick, the same order states, is to be personally responsible for the safety of the King's person.

BOOTH SAYS BUSINESS IS IMPROVING

Commissioner Adam Clifford, territorial commander for the Salvation Army, who returned recently from a conference in New York with Commander Evan Geline Booth reports the general outlook for business conditions slightly improving. He further states that in the western territorial division which comprises the eleven Pacific Coast states and Hawaii, the opening of spring in the last thirty days with its increasing demand for unskilled labor, has shown an improvement in the unemployed situation. There is a falling-off of approximately one-third in the unemployment relief demand to meet this phase of destitution. This is the situation experienced in the larger centers of population such as Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Oakland, Sacramento and Stockton.

During the four or five months of the past winter the Salvation Army has been called upon to meet an emergency peak load precipitated by national unemployment transients and "out of work" drifters from all sections of the world; all this in addition to the family relief and rehabilitation program which is shouldered by the Army every winter.

At San Francisco the unemployment situation is reflected in figures compiled by Colonel Arthur E. Smeeton, men's social service secretary of the Salvation Army for the western territorial division, showing that in the period from November 21, 1927 to February 21, 1928, a total of 2574 men were furnished temporary employment at the Army wood yard. They were given work a total of 48,355 combined working hours.

The Salvation Army facilities for social work were taxed to the utmost and at times more than 400 men were forced to sleep on the concrete floors with but gunny sacks for covering because every available cot and bed was occupied.

Of the 2574 men given employment, the records show that 1905 were common laborers, 69 were seamen, 64 machinists, 62 restaurant workers, 46 cooks, 40

Richmond Junior Baseball League, sponsored by the American Legion; the Richmond Tennis club and as many individual motor cars and parties as can possibly take part in the caravan.

Meanwhile the news of the new 30-minute ferry service from Richmond to San Francisco has been broadcast up and down the state by the Southern Pacific. Time tables and descriptive folders of every resort, every garage, every information bureau, every automobile club and association in California and many thousands have been sent North into Oregon and Washington.

Motorists traveling north or south to or from San Francisco are urged to travel via the Richmond-San Francisco ferry as the quickest and shortest and most scenic route. And every motorist who travels via Richmond will get a close-up view of Richmond and will be impressed by the tremendous commercial industrial and harbor developments under way.

"Join the motor car parade tomorrow morning" urged Ralph Bergen, grand marshal and in charge of general arrangements.
